

FISCAL PERFINs OF IRELAND AND GREAT BRITAIN

by Michael Burrows and Chris Tennant

After the revenue stamp had been affixed to its appropriate document it could be cancelled by perforating through the stamp and the document in one operation.

The following is an attempt to record all known devices and the adhesive revenue issues treated in this manner. Where possible, three catalogue numbers are given. The first is Forbin, the second Lundy and the third Booth (see notes). Dates of issue are as given by Booth. To save confusion, the colours have been grouped, e.g., carmine, rose, scarlet, orange and vermillion are all listed as red.

IRELAND.

At present seven different devices have been noted on the revenues of Ireland.

JUDICATURE: on this series four devices are known:

GREAT BRITAIN.

Fifteen different devices, seven of which are of the dated type, have been recorded on issues from six revenue-using sections. Those used by the Mayors Court, Justice Room, Mansion House, Lancaster Palatine Court, Liverpool Cotton Brokers Association, and the Tea Clearing House are at present being researched. It is hoped to publish the results at a later date.

ADMIRALTY COURT: Four different dating devices have been seen on these issues. Taking the central figures as the date of the year, this must rate as some of the earliest security cancels. Figures 20-23 show the four types. Owing to the complexity of allocating these issues to the correct printings and catalogue numbers, only the value and type of device are recorded.
